SECOND COUNT
Violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1692e

43. Plaintiff repeats and realleges the foregoing paragraphs as if fully restated herein.
44. As previously set forth, the Letter states, “Current Account Balance.” (emphasis added.)

45. As previously set forth, Plaintiff was always charged interest on any balance carried on the account.

46. As previously set forth, Plaintiff was always charged late fees on any payments due but not timely made by Plaintiff.

49. The Letter fails to disclose whether the amount stated may increase due to additional late fees.

50. The Letter fails to indicate whether the creditor will accept payment of the amount stated in full satisfaction of the debt if payment is made by a specified date.

51. The Letter fails to indicate the minimum amount Plaintiff owed at the time of the Letter.

52. The Letter fails to provide information that would allow the least sophisticated consumer to determine the minimum amount he or she owes at the time of the Letter.

53. The Letter fails to provide information that would allow Plaintiff to determine what Plaintiff will need to pay to resolve the debt at any given moment in the future.

54. The Letter fails to provide information that would allow the least sophisticated consumer to determine what he or she will need to pay to resolve the debt at any given moment in the future.

55. The Letter fails to provide information that would allow the least sophisticated consumer to determine the amount of interest owed.

56. For instance, the Letter fails to indicate the applicable interest rate.

57. For instance, the Letter fails to indicate the date of accrual of interest.

58. For instance, the Letter fails to indicate the amount of interest during any measurable period.

59. The Letter fails to provide information that would allow the least sophisticated consumer to determine the amount of late fees owed.

60. For instance, the Letter fails to indicate the amount of late fees.

61. For instance, the Letter fails to indicate the date such fees will be added.

62. For instance, the Letter fails to indicate the amount of late fees during any measurable period.

63. The Letter fails to contain an explanation, understandable by the least sophisticated consumer, of any fees and interest that may cause the amount stated to increase.

64. The Letter fails to state whether interest, late fees and/or other fees are accruing.

65. The Letter fails to state what part of the amount stated is attributable to principal.

66. The Letter fails to state what part of the amount stated is attributable to interest.

67. The Letter fails to state what part of the amount stated is attributable to late fees.

68. The Letter fails to state what part of the amount stated is attributable to other fees.

69. The Letter, because of the aforementioned failures, would render the least sophisticated consumer unable to determine the minimum amount owed at the time of the Letter.

70. The Letter, because of the aforementioned failures, would render the least sophisticated consumer unable to determine what she will need to pay to resolve the debt at any given moment in the future.

71. The Letter, because of the aforementioned failures, would render the least sophisticated consumer unable to determine the amount of his or her debt.

72. The Letter, because of the aforementioned failures, would render the least sophisticated consumer unable to determine the amount of her debt because the consumer would not know whether interest and fees would continue to accrue, or whether the amount of the debt was static.

73. A collection letter violates 15 U.S.C. § 1692e if it can reasonably be read by the least sophisticated consumer to have two or more meanings, one of which is inaccurate.

74. The Letter, because of the aforementioned failures, and because interest and late fees were always charged on the account and Plaintiff was never informed by anyone that interest and late fees would no longer be applied, and especially because of the use of the phrase “Current Account Balance,” can reasonably be read by the least sophisticated consumer to mean that interest was still accruing.

75. The Letter, because of the aforementioned failures, and because interest and late fees were always charged on the account and Plaintiff was never informed by anyone that interest and late fees would no longer be applied, and especially because of the use of the phrase “Current Account Balance,” can reasonably be read by the least sophisticated consumer to mean that late fees were still accruing.

76. The Letter could also reasonably be read by the least sophisticated consumer to mean that interest was no longer accruing.

77. The Letter could also reasonably be read by the least sophisticated consumer to mean that late fees were no longer accruing.

78. The Letter could reasonably be read by the least sophisticated consumer to mean that the debt could be satisfied in full by payment of the amount stated.

79. The Letter could reasonably be read by the least sophisticated consumer to mean that the debt could be satisfied in full by payment of the amount stated at any time after receipt of the Letter.

80. The Letter could also reasonably be read by the least sophisticated consumer to mean that the amount stated was accurate only on the date of the Letter because of the continued accumulation of interest and/or late fees.

81. Because the Letter can reasonably be read by the least sophisticated consumer to have two or more meanings, one of which is inaccurate, as described, it is deceptive under 15 U.S.C. § 1692e. See Islam v. Am. Recovery Serv. Inc., No. 17-CV-4228 (BMC), 2017 WL 4990570 (E.D.N.Y. Oct. 31, 2017).

82. For these reasons, Defendant violated 15 U.S.C. § 1692e.
